

who will be THE ONE?

The Wausau Daily Herald is seeking nominations for 2011 Person of the Year and 2011 Young Person of the Year.

The Person of the Year is a person of impact in north central Wisconsin. He or she can be someone who's a well-known community leader or someone whose work rarely gets much attention.

The key is impact. The Person of the Year will have affected the lives of people in a way that's deep, or broad, or both. Here's one way to look at it: What events have mattered the most in your life this year? In the life of the community? Who were the people behind those events? Who made a difference this year?

The same criteria go for the Young Person of the Year. People in our communities who are 18 and younger do some pretty extraordinary things. Do you know someone who deserves recognition?

Send your nominations in by noon Nov. 30. We'll announce the winner of the Person of the Year award Dec. 25 and Young Person of the Year award Dec. 6. And we'll publish the names of all the nominees and profiles of the finalists in the Community Conversation section.

PERSON of the YEAR

The Wausau Daily Herald is seeking nominations for 2011 Person of the Year and 2011 Young Person of the Year. The criteria for each award are simple: The Person of the Year must be older than 18 and must have made a significant impact in north central Wisconsin during this calendar year. The Young Person of the Year must be 18 years old or younger and also must have made a significant local impact since Jan. 1.

Nominations must be received no later than noon Nov. 30. Winners will be announced Dec. 25 and Dec. 26.
